Description

Our creative team loved working on these miniature space modules being we're all space enthusiasts.

The Boeing satellites are some of the top of the line in communications and position tools. Boeing wanted a keepsake award for their executives and chose this concept we presented to them.

The clear Lucite memento has a blue backing to highlight the miniatures and holds the models aloft as if floating in space over the background print of a projection of the world. The Boeing logo is printed on the bottom and is reflected when the award is moved.
