Description

Sometimes, the good guys do get ahead of the bad guys. This custom Lucite award is double-casted with several embedments and it rewards the people representing the good guys who create software that stops the bad guys.

We made this in several pieces, all encased in clear Lucite. In front of the black background there is an embedded horse head and in front of that on the surface is a circle with a line running through it, and within the clear area is a document.
